FILLED TO UTMOST.

New York, Oct. 22.-Activity was renewed with energy today by the gubernatorial candidates upon whom thus far has rested the burden of the campaign. Both held informal conferences with leaders among their supporters during ing the day and tonight appeared before large audiences.

The Independence League had a meeting at Madison Square Garden, where all who could get inside heard William R. Hearst, the league's candidate for governor, and other candidates of the league and Democratic ticket. The Tammany Hall committee, which had planned to tour the city tonight in au-tomobiles, holding many outdoor meetings, abandoned the trip at the last moment in deference to the gathering at the garden

Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, also was out with a statement today. He again declared Tammany's allegiance to the Independence League as represented in the Democratic state ticket, and predicted the election of Mr. Hearst.

Victory for League.

The Independence League won a victory possibly of wide-spreading consequence when the board of elections decided that the managers of the league, having named a full state ticket, were entitled to say what candidates should be placed under the scales, the emblem of the league. The action of the board will come before the supreme court for review tomorrow. Should the courts sustain the opinion of the board, many Democrats nominated by petition will have no place in the league column on undamaged. the official ballot.

The judiciary nominators tonight opened their campaign on behalf of the Independence judiciary ticket with a large number of meetings.

Single-Handed. New York. Oct. 22.-The announcement that William R. Heart, who heads the Independence League and Democratic state tickets, as well as other candidates, would meeting held under the pices of the league tonight, served to draw a crowd that put a premium on standing room in Madison Square Gar

Mr. Hearst made the principal speech in the Garden. His arrival and his ap-pearance upon the platform were signals enthusiastic demonstrations and applause and cheering was renewed frequently. Mr. Hearst had much to say concerning corporations and something about his opponent on the Republican about his opponent on the Republican ticket. Mr. Hearst opened his address by saying that he had just returned from a tour up-state in the so-called Republican counties and declared that he would come down to Harlem river with a majority and that all the votes he would get in the city would be "velvet." He believed he said, that he would be elected governor by a majority of 150 000 a majority of 150,000.

Mr. Hearst told how he had fought the "trusts" in the interests of the people. He fished out and killed the "gas and thel trust" and next tackled the "ice trust" and next tackled the "ice trust" and put the "ice trust mayor" out of office. He then made war on the "beef trust" and the rebating system.

"You have been told," said Mr. Hearst, "that I have made corrupt political deals and I have made no deals at all. I have made no more deals with Murphy than I have with McCarren. have with McCarren.

Takes Fall Out of Murphy.

Mr. Heart continued: "While I have been away from New York, newspapers have been lying as industriously and per-sistently and recklessly as ever. They tly and reckiessly as ever. They had this time a little assistance from Boss Murphy, the gentleman whom ne newspapers have declared to be enthusiastically for me. Murphy said that Judge Rosalsby had been put on our ticket for pay, but when Murphy was put on oath before the grand jury he was compelled to retract and admit that the statement was unfounded and reckless. "If the lying newspaper proprietors and ecitors of this town were all put on oath before the grand jury, there is hardly a political statement they have made durant this compaign they have made durant the statement they have made durant the compaign the statement they have made durant the statement they have made durant this compaign the statement they have made durant the statement the statem ing this campaign that they would not be compelled to retract and admit false in every particular.

Kaysville today presents a scene of destruction on every hand, that is apall-

Residences are unroofed and blown down, and every business house in Main street is damaged—some of them seri-ously. The number of barns that have been destroyed cannot be told, and the board and picket fences everywhere are lying flat. Gigantic trees, with their roots carrying tons of dirt, lie across paths and roadways, while the tangle of broken roadways, while the tangle of broken telephone wires and tree-limbs obstructs the roadways.

So far as reports have been received, no fatalities have occurred, though there were a number of narrow escapes, and Bishop Secrist Injured.

Bishop J. M. Secrist of Farmington, is reported to have been painfully, and perhaps seriously injured by a flying board, which struck him across the nose. His condition is thought to be danger-ous. He is still unconscious.

The wife and a child of James F. King

The wife and a child of James F. King were injured Saturday night, when their house on John R. Barnes' farm, a mile north of town, was blown down. Falling adobes caught them, and it was miraculous that either escaped.

The storm commenced early Saturday evening and had gained terrific velocity as early as 9 o'clock, by which time trees were falling and roofs of buildings were being carried away. It was a night of sleepless terror for everyone. After midsleepless terror for everyone. After mid-night it was apparent that the damage would be greater than had ever been done by an east wind before.

The steadily increasing velocity and ter-nific force of the wind was carrying ev-erything before it, and even the strongest houses were beginning to shake.

Imprisoned for Hours.

With only occasional brief lulls the wind gained in power until noon on Sunday. The most serious damages was done be-tween daylight and noon on that day. The Kaysville Co-op roof was stripped off. and their warehouse roof collapsed.

H. J. Sheffield's store, the largest in town, had the plate-glass blown in and the metal roof demolished. In the upper rooms of this structure are the Bell Teleprone offices. The windows of these offices were blown in at 12:30 Saturday night, the operators, Miss Ida Smith and Miss Cora Phillips, were driven from their switch-boards, and in darkness, they builded terror stricken in the second of th huddled, terror-stricken, in a corner of the office, with glass flying and debris falling about them, until daylight. To have ventured out would have meant almost certain injury for them. Their experience was perhaps, the most thrilling that has been reported. They were rescued at 6:30 by James Gardliner, local telephone manager. Neither of the young women was injured, though they were theroughly chilled and frightened.

Other Places Damaged.

The relief society hall, next door north of Sheffield's had a portion of the brick front blown off. So had Bonnemort & Cripman's meat market, which also had plate-glass windows blown in. The B. B. The Kaysville city hall tower and the tower of the Academy building went down, destroying the portions of the buildings beneath them.

These details with minor damages that have not been mentioned, give an idea of the situation in the business district of the town, but the property loss was larger outside. Farm and residence pro-perty suffered most damage, and last night there were more than a dozen fam-thes in Kaysville alone, whose houses had been destroyed entirely or rendered un-safe for habitation. These found shelter with more fortunate neighbors.

From the top of the Kaysville Milling company's building, a view of the wide-spread scene of destruction was obtained and a search revealed a shockingly mu-tilated body, which today was identified as that of Mr. MacFadyen. It is rumored that the failure of P. MacFadyen & Co., the London house of Arbuthnot & Co., bankers of Madras,

Close by was the former site of the Mount pickle works. The 36x160 foot building is entirely destroyed, and much of it is lyingin the roadway to the west. Half a mile away, the roofless and demolished residence of Warren D. Barnes is seen. In another direction a house occuseen. In another direction a house occu-pied by Carl Harzer is seen with the roof gone. East of these, similar destruction came to the homes of Thomas Green and Thomas Perkins. James F. King's house a mile to the north is almost entirely gone. When it fell, the family barely es-were destroyed.

To the east, in the upper section of Kaysville, Niel Lott's house was unrofed and the gable blown in, a section of the roof of Fred L. Bennett's house is gone. Mrs. Mary Barton's new brick addition collapsed, destroying all the furniture it contained. Mrs. Mary Barnett's house has only one wall standing. The family escaped with nothing but the clothing they wore. A like condition prevails where once the house of Harry Barber stood. In west Kaysville, those who ber stood. Clear from Greenwater, on the edge of Death valley, came men to greet the visitors. In 'buses, carriages and automobiles and on foot the excursionists trooped up to the main street and to the Mont-gomery hotel, which was reception headquarters. In front of the hotel a band, with the instruments glistening luridly in the red light, played "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." A throng of khaki clothed miners yipped and yelled, and the excursionists were glad they came.

Salt Lake Boomers Enjoy the Democratic Speakers Discuss the Senator-Apostle Freely

GUM-SHOERS.

(Special to The Herald.) Provo, Oct. 22.-In Senator Smoot's home and stronghold tonight James H. Moyle of Salt Lake and L. R. Martineau, chairman of the Democratic state committee, delivered addresses to a large audience in the Provo opera

The audience was deeply interested in the remarks of the speakers, and the telling points made against the fellowtownsman of these people were applauded with a vigor that showed there are still people in Utah county who do not approve of the Smoot campaign. The Prove Silver Cornet band made music for the occasion, and the meeting was called to order by Alma Van Wagener, chairman of the city Demoeratic committee. Mr. Van Wagener introduced W. M. Roylance as chairman very briefly. He said the time had come to end the strife and turmoil of which the people of the state are very tired, and that in the Democratic party lay the only hope of peace He then introduced Mr. Moyle. The Salt Laker began by saying that it was his hope that the Democratic party shall stand, as it has always stood, for progress, development and peace. The time had come, said the speaker, when men should be elected on account of their political principles, not because they were bosses in politics or because they had influence outside of politics.

Fast Favorites of Republicans.

"The Republicans, when they came into power in this state," said Mr. Moyle, "elected Cannon and Brown to the United States senate. Mr. Cannon is a now a leader of the 'American' ing the Republican machine. Then the Republicans looked around for the richest man in the state; for one whose wealth could be used in the corruption Beatty, Nev., Oct. 22.—The trip from Sait Lake was quiet and Fisher Harris was absent. I have never said that the gentleman was responsible himself for this agitation, but I do say that his activity in politics is responsible for the conditions which exist in Utah today. I have respect for Senator Smoot in his place, but I say the time has come in Utah when men must stand upon their own merits and political principles shall rule.

Is Politician Above Criticism?

"No one would be more opposed than myself to denying to any man enjoyment of his rights. But has the day morning, ninety miles off Key West. Melsays he saw seventy-nine men drowned from a house-boat which was wrecked off Lon Key, Florida, in last week's storm. Melson said he and the other men were on a house boat at Long Key, when the hurricane boat at Long Key, when the hoat to sea. I can conceive there might have been a time when an apostle might have been needed in congress, but he should stand there upon his merits as a citizen and not otherwise. I know the appeal has been made and is being made that the Mormon people should rally to the support of this gentleman and should protect his personal interests. There has grown up in this state a class of people who do no come to the surface, but who go about the state whispering-whispering! They are called 'gum-shoers,' very appropriately. They whisper that the interests of the church demand the sup-

Bugaboo of Disfranchisement.

"One of the most absurd boasts that has been made is that Democratic success means the disfranchisement of the people of this state. I haven't seen the slightest of evidence of this danger they suggest. It is merely a bugaboo that the Republican machine has been raising. Unless they are checked in their mad career, what will they do next? I charge the Republicans with They were Apostle Francis M. Lyman and Mrs. Rhoda A. Lyman. Fifty-five years ago Apostle Lyman traversed the old emigrant trail the railroad now fol-exists here. What has given the exists here. What has given the 'Américan' party reasons for existence? Has it not grown out of the agitation over our senior senator?

Mr. Moyle declared that permanent peace and progress could only be insured by placing the Democrats in charge. He said that the Republicans had a habit of injecting an extraneous new issues into this campaign. The trip had another sentimental interest. Forty-five years ago Mrs. Lyman parted from her younger sister. Ever since that time their paths have been her words. The wissues into this campaign. "If there ever was a base conglomeration of falsehood, it is found in that letter," said Mr. Moyle.
